NEXT ON THE IASB SCHEDULE

Wanted to take a quick moment to welcome any new instructors as a few programs are changing or in the process of changing hands. Please make sure any new staff are aware of IASB and how to reach out to other instructors for help!

Give a warm IASB welcome to our new board members joining the board, and a heartfelt thank you to those moving on.

While the school year may be winding down, broadcast teachers are still working on things like graduation streaming, sporting events, final projects, etc. Take a look at winning contest entries for some ideas and don't forget about our summer instructors' workshop!

To get on our mailing lists, reach out to Evan Elrod at eelrod@gjcs.k12.in.us.

SAY HELLO TO OUR NEW BOARD MEMBERS!

In June, the IASB Board of Directors introduces a new board. Each member serves a two year term.

First of all, a tremendous "Thank You" to our outgoing President, Evan Elrod from Jasper High School! The President of IASB is a huge role and Evan filled those shoes well while leading the organization through the chaos of Covid and everything that came along with it. Evan will now become our Immediate Past President (replacing former President, Bob Johnston) and stay on as a non-voting member to guide our new President.

Adam Schenkel from Homestead High School is taking over as IASB's President. Adam previously held the position of Secretary for the last two years. You can reach Adam for questions (or to say congrats on his adorable new baby!) at tschenkel@sacs.k12.in.us.

Kevin Hankins is brand new to the board and is taking over as the representative for At-Large for Secondary Schools. Kevin teaches at Franklin Community High School and can be reached at hankinsk@franklinschools.org.

And, finally, taking over the Secretary position is Lauren Kruger-Patchin, from Avon High School. Lauren is also brand new to the board and can be reached at latauer@avon-schools.org.

Our board's terms are staggered so if you are interested in serving on the board, watch for nomination call outs in December next year. You can have someone nominate you or nominate yourself!

If you have any questions or are interested in future board positions, feel free to reach out to any board member.

SCHOOL YEAR WRAP UP FOR IASB

While it feels like things should be wrapping up for broadcast teachers, it really only ramps up. Here are just some friendly reminders from IASB:

If you are looking for last-minute project ideas or what to plan for next year, check out the winning projects from our annual IASB competition! You may also pick up on some skills you want your kiddos to hone for next year's competition. Building portfolios is also a great skill to build at the end of the year even for those first-year students who need to see how far they've come in just a year.

Reach out to your fellow broadcast teachers for advice on streaming graduation! Whether you're just starting it this year, have a hiccup you want to avoid, or just want to see what equipment other programs use, many broadcast programs across the state are doing the same thing. You can also post questions and advice on our Facebook page.

Next on the schedule for IASB...

- Our summer instructor's workshop is on Wed., July 13th. Please make sure to invite any new staff members from your teams as we would love to meet them and some of the information may be valuable especially as they get started.
- Scott will be sending out a survey about the instructors' workshop. Please watch your emails for it and respond ASAP. We want to keep the workshop as helpful as possible for you and your programs!
- Membership dues will be coming out soon! Keep an eye out for those and email our treasurer, Jeannette, at jrinard@impactinstitute.net if you have any questions.
