2022 IASB High School Broadcasting Competition Awards Announced

INDIANAPOLIS—Crown Point High School won Radio School of the Year and Homestead High School won Television School of the Year at the 2022 Indiana Association of School Broadcasters (IASB) Awards at the University of Indianapolis on March 14, 2022. It was the 1st time that Crown Point High School earned the accolade and the third time for Homestead High School to be recognized with the honor.

Nearly 350 students and instructors from 25 Indiana high schools and career centers attended the 18th annual IASB conference presented by the University of Indianapolis. Students participated in the IASB High School Broadcasting Competition and attended ten workshops that addressed topics including journalism, film, radio, video production, and sports broadcasting.

"Every year it becomes more difficult to judge this competition, not just because we continue to have a nearly record number of entries from an increasing number of schools and career centers, but because the quality of the student work is incredible. There's no doubt that the future of broadcasting is very bright when you see what the next generation of broadcast professionals is already doing. Congratulations to the students and their instructors for their amazing work," said Scott Uecker, IASB Executive Director and University of Indianapolis Communication instructor.
