FALL MEMBERS' MEETING WRAP-UP

We are so excited that so many of you were able to make it to our Fall Members' Meeting. For those of you that weren't able to make it, please take a look at the video from our sponsors and take a look at contest rule updates.

Details on pg 2.

MEMBER SPOTLIGHT: GOSHEN COLLEGE

From Jason Samuel and Kyle Hufford

Goshen College is well known in Indiana media and is home to several state and national awards. Over a year ago, when the rest of the world still felt shutdown, Goshen media opened a new, $1.4 million project-- a 3,700-foot facility in the west wing of the Newcomer Center to bring all of their award winning media together.

Lovingly called "The West Wing", Goshen College has brought together their radio, TV, print and other media programs together under a single roof. The instructors say "Students are able to meet in one place and collaborate as one team," and of course having the newspaper, TV, radio, and sports people all together adds a log more energy.

FALL MEMBERS' MEETING NOTES...

A huge thank you to the IBA for allowing us to tag along on their conference in order to do our Fall Members' Meeting and to our sponsors, ASG and CCS, for allowing us to do everything IASB does for our students and staff! We covered a lot of information (see all links below!)

Please take a moment to click on the links to see what CCS has to offer and watch the video from ASG!

First on the list at the conference, contest season has begun! Here are changes in the language of some of the contest categories in hopes of clearing up confusion and making things more fair. For a full list of the rules and copywriting points, the 2021-2022 document is up on the website.

Rich Nye of WTHR and Lauren Chapman gave a great presentation on storytelling! Lauren has some really great tools you can use with your students to help them really dive into storytelling through online platforms. If you want to see some of the resources she shared, you can find them on her linktree!

And our last session was incredibly informative for those of you who want to work on podcasting with your students! Seth Resler with Jacobs Media gave us some amazing resources. You can find his presentation here and a webinar specifically for radio station here.
